Timings

10.30am - 4pm

Price:

£25

Number of Weeks

1

Target Group

Anyone who wants to discover and develop their drawing skills in a relaxed safe environment.

Skills and qualifications needed:

Not necessary, the exercises used during the day will benefit novices and those with more experience. The full day workshop provides a chance to develop a playful attitude to drawing. To remove the inner critic and become completely immersed in the process. Many of the exercises are based on "The natural way to Draw" by Kimon Nicolaides

Any further steps

Teaching & learning methods used:

Through a series of exercises learners will be encouraged to freely explore and develop confidence in their creative endeavours. The session will be relaxed and include drawing to music, drawing with two hands and learning to really observe your subject matter. Drawing what you see and not what you

Course Details

The "playful approach to drawing" workshop aims to introduce learners to exciting ways of working with line and develop their observational skills. By allowing yourself to be immersed in a full day of drawing can produce surprising leaps in your hand eye co-ordination which is the essence of drawing.

How progress and success will be recorded:

This workshop will not have any assessment criteria. The workshop will conclude with reflection time so as to absorb what has been accomplished during the day.

Materials required for first week:

Detailed notes will be provided at the start of the session.

Learners are encouraged to bring rough paper for example news print, lining paper, brown paper as well as sturdy cartridge paper for longer drawings. A3 or A2 is advised. Pencils, charcoal or conté, drawing pens, pastels, crayons, water-based paint, brushes, sharpener, eraser, ruler, compass, jars for water, palette for mixing paint, scissors will be useful
